NEWS IS SO SO.
TORTURING WITNESSES.
WATER FINE, IN SPOTS.

By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NOTHING in the way of "big news" when this was written at 5 o'clock yesterday.

The British seized some more of Gandhi's men. A little fighting seems enough for the mahatma's followers.

THE JUGOSLAVIAN King Alexander is accused of allowing police to torture political prisoners. One brought to court in a wheel chair, says he was beaten, tied with ropes, whipped with canes, at intervals, all night long. Other prisoners were treated in similar fashion.

Civilization, backward in some places, in others makes progress. Not long ago, men accused were tortured everywhere, to make them tell what they knew. Torture is no longer legal.

When Queen Elizabeth decided to cut off the head of her lover, Essex, she was praised for her restraint in not having him put to the torture. His abject submission, and fear of things he might have said, under torture, about the woman whom he indiscreetly described as an ugly old hunchback, may have caused the unusual gentleness.

RALPH SANDERS was to start yesterday from Harrison, Tex., bound for New York, riding a large black bull. He will race with Benjamin Stack, who starts 30 days later, driving a goat and a donkey.

Mr. Stack bets that he will get to New York first in spite of Sanders' 30 days' start.

THAT IS UNIMPORTANT in days of airplanes and automobiles, but everything strange interests us. Fashionable ladies in the Medici days liked hideous dwarfs, old kings had their "court fools." The great astronomer, Tycho Brahe, made all at his table be silent when an idiot eating scraps at his feet mumbled words supposed to have deep meaning.

The "Cruelty" society, of course, will see that the bull, goat and donkey are properly shod.

If you are still in the stock market, or hovering on the edge, like a small boy asking "how is the water," know that just now "the water is fine," in spots. Old Father, the money dragon, in addition to his pile of gold, has in his interior a gigantic mass of undigested securities.

He is still alive, but certain groans indicate that he is having trouble in spots where the securities were fed to him in millions of shares at a time.

WASHINGTON, discussing the naval pact, learns from Secretary Stimson "the United States had to compromise to get the treaty."

It might have been simpler to get along without it, building ships and other things as we require them.

Britain never came here to discuss the size of England's navy, or invited us to come to Europe to discuss that matter, when she had enough money to build what she liked, when she liked.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS will print a report on the "morals of the United States." You may say, crudely, "none of the league of nations' dashed business." Nevertheless, Mademoiselle Chaplain severely criticizes our moral conditions especially as regards childhood. She finds that with us "hygiene frequently takes the place of morals and physical health takes precedence over conscience. The human soul does not seem to be regarded as a living reality."

Jury To Decide On Road Damage Claims

Damage claims sought by property owners on the East Liverpool-East Palestine road as a result of the improvement of this highway will be determined by a jury selected Wednesday afternoon in probate court, the case being heard by Judge Lodge Riddle in Common Pleas No. 2.

After the jury was selected, it was driven over this road for the purpose of viewing the premises.

In addition to determining the value of property taken for road purposes, damages to the residue will also be set by this jury. The property owners appealed from the amounts offered by the county commissioners, and the board then deposited this money with the court, with the appeal following.

Twelve Service Fliers In Peril Off Hawaii

Big Bomber Forced Down In Rough Sea; Jump With Parachutes

Rescue Amphibians Fail To Leave Sea After Alighting

(By The Associated Press)
HONOLULU, May 15.—Two more of the twelve army and navy fliers caught in the rough, shark-infested waters between the islands of Maui and Hawaii when their planes were unable to effect takeoffs yesterday were rescued early today by the mine sweeper Pelican. Eight previously were picked up. The other two are unaccounted for.

The Pelican picked up Lieutenants U. G. Jones and Walter Myers from their helpless amphibian army plane, one of the three aircraft which landed in the dangerous channel in an attempt to save the four fliers of a big army bomber which had been forced down.

Drifts Many Miles
The amphibian had drifted about forty miles from the spot where it landed, and was found twenty miles southwest of the island of Kahoolawe. The crews of another army amphibian and of a navy plane containing four fliers and two of the ill-fated bomber's crew were picked up last night by the steamer Hawaii.

The two missing fliers were members of the bomber's crew of four. The twelve fliers were caught in the grip of the rough channel yesterday in the emergency landing of a big army bombing plane and in the subsequent rescue attempts by fellow aviators who were unable to take off after they had landed at the scene.

The eight rescued fliers were taken from a navy seaplane and an army amphibian, both of which had gone to the rescue of the bomber. (Continued on Page 4)

MINOR BILL CAUSE OF FILIBUSTER IN HOUSE; ABSENTEES ARRESTED

Measure On Farm Topic Deadlocked When Quorum Is Not Present To Take Action; Those Who Were Present Disappear Later

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—A minor agricultural bill was the cause last night of a filibuster in the usually well-regulated house and the arrest of absentee members—among them Speaker Longworth—for the purpose of obtaining a quorum.

Vigorous opposition to the measure carried the day's session well into the evening and then it was discovered that the chamber could neither take action on the bill nor adjourn, for want of the necessary majority of the membership.

Arrest Many Absentees
Those present, however, could vote to have the absentees arrested and conducted to the chamber by the sergeant-at-arms, and this they proceeded to do. Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican leader, who was in the chair, signed orders of arrest by the dozen.

Among the first to be escorted into the chamber was Speaker Longworth, and others followed. But then, a new difficulty arose. Those already in attendance had gone without dinner, and about 60 of them took advantage of the interim while the arrests were being made, to visit the house restaurant.

To the restaurant went the sergeant-at-arms and his staff and a general roundup of members followed. Finally enough were in the chamber to conduct business. A motion was put and carried that the bill in dispute be taken up for final action tomorrow, and then the house adjourned.

On Foreign Topics
The measure in question would provide for the expansion of the foreign agriculture information service. Its author, Representative Ketchum, Republican, Michigan, urged its passage as a step approved by President Hoover and the federal farm board.

For six hours, Representatives Wood of Indiana, and Stafford of Wisconsin, both Republicans, filibustered against the bill and exhausted every parliamentary means of preventing passage. They opposed it as a measure disapproved by the president and the farm board and contended that the foreign service of the department of commerce was better fitted to carry out the project than the bill contemplated.

Investigating Rumors
An investigation is being made of unconfirmed rumors that Augustino Sandino, former self-exiled insurgent chief, has returned to Nicaragua from Merida, Yucatan, by way of Salvador and is now directing another insurgent force. The cabinet, meeting Tuesday, continued for 60 days the state of siege in the northern departments of Matagalpa, Chontales, Jinotega, Estelita, and the Segovias.

In at least one of the six encounters, that at San Juan on May 7, the bandit or insurgent group may have come off best, but in the other fights the marines and constabulary seemed to have administered the greater punishment. The report said the opposition was well trained in the use of bombs, grenades, machine guns, and rifles.

DRY LAW POWER TRANSFER GIVEN FAVORABLE VOTE

Justice Department Will Have Enforcement Under Control

FEW DIFFERENCES STILL REMAINING

Industrial Alcohol Forms Topic; Debate Fails To Materialize

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—The first of the administration's bills for the improvement of prohibition enforcement today bore the approval of both branches of congress and awaited only the elimination of minor differences between the two houses before being sent to the white house.

This was the measure to transfer the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department and coordinate it with the prosecuting agency there under the direction of a single head. It was approved by the senate yesterday, with a few minor amendments in which the house is expected to concur.

The vigorous wet and dry debate that the bill had been expected to evoke in the senate failed to materialize and the only dispute of any consequence came on an amendment, offered by Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, to prohibit the addition of poisonous ingredients to denature industrial alcohol. This was rejected by a vote of 53 to 19.

The principal senate amendment would provide that the bill become effective next July 1. The senate approved the house provision that the issuance of industrial alcohol permits be supervised jointly by the treasury and justice departments.

The wet bloc of the house today threw itself behind an effort to obtain consideration at this session of either the LaGuardia bill for modification of the Volstead law or the Norton resolution for a referendum on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. At a meeting late yesterday, the bloc decided to circulate a petition to obtain the action it desires.

Cat Neglects Family; Adopts Skunks

OAKLAND, IA., May 15.—"Fussy," just an alley cat, adopted a family of skunks and abandoned her own kittens to do so.

"Fussy," being just an alley cat, probably didn't know any better.

HANNAH MOVES TO CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Charles Hannah, former banjo player and bakery wagon driver at Orrville, has come to Cleveland hoping the crowds of the city will help him escape the notoriety he gained as fabricator of stories about the disappearance of four-year-old Melvin Horst.

Hannah was located here with his family at a modest home. He moved here from Wooster, where he spent several weeks in jail while authorities checked one by one his statements and denials that he killed or kidnaped the Horst boy, missing since December 27, 1928.

Bewilderment of Wayne county authorities over Hannah's recent apparent prosperity was met by his assertion that he has been aided by James W. Coughlin of Cleveland, an unofficial investigator of the Horst mystery.

AUTHORITY FOR PRESIDENT MAY DECIDE TARIFF

Leaders Feel Amendment Which Would Invest Power, Is Crisis

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Whether the tariff bill will be passed or not depended today, congressional leaders believed, on whether the senate's Democratic-Independent Republican coalition can muster a majority for a final test on its amendment revoking the president's authority to make emergency changes in import duty rates.

The Republican conferees of the two houses have reached an impasse and before the end of the week the senate Republican majority to ask that they be relieved of an agreement restricting them from abandoning this amendment.

The coalition today was discussing whether it should oppose this request, or grant it and then oppose the conference report, if the amendment is not included.

Republicans were of the opinion that the coalition could kill the bill by refusing the conferees a free hand and the Democrats replied that the Republicans were willing to let it die.

The amendment in question would give over to congress the president's present authority to revise tariff rates upward or downward within a limit of fifty per cent, upon the recommendations of the tariff commission. It was written into the bill by the senate coalition over the vigorous objection of President Hoover. The house has voted against the amendment.

Other Woman Scratched Saving Life Of Aged Grandmother

Mrs. Celestia Green, 76-year-old Perry township resident, is in a serious condition at Central Clinic hospital today, suffering from wounds sustained when she was attacked by a pet dog at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Green was bitten about the face, arms and legs when the dog, believed to have suddenly gone mad, attacked her in the front yard of her home, located on the Depot rd., two miles south of Salem.

Mrs. Leroy Bates, Perry st., Mrs. Green's granddaughter, saved the aged woman's life when she dragged the dog from her and rushed her to the hospital. Mrs. Bates sustained scratches about the arms and legs.

Given Pasteur Treatment
Mrs. Green will live unless infections from wounds set in. Dr. F. R. Crowe, attending physician, stated this morning. Both women are being given the Pasteur treatment for rabies to prevent possible infections.

Mrs. Green resides alone at her home. She left her house to welcome her granddaughter who had come to visit her and while walking towards Mrs. Bates' automobile, was attacked by the dog. Thinking at first that the dog was only playing, both women paid only slight attention to his actions until he forced Mrs. Green to the ground and bit her several times.

Mrs. Bates dragged the dog from her grandmother and chased him away. She assisted Mrs. Green to get up and when the dog returned, she attempted to enter the machine and attack Mrs. Bates. Mrs. Bates' five-year-old daughter, the dog was again chased away and Mrs. Green was taken to the hospital.

THE NAVAL PACT

A few weeks ago comment on the London naval conference and its probable results included the names of all the nations concerned. Today, the finished pact has been delivered to the heads of the various governments associating in the conference and comment is confined very largely to national boundaries.

As Secretary of State Stimson prepares to "sell" the treaty to a cranky senate, Premier MacDonald faces a similar ordeal in parliament. The house of commons will not discuss the treaty until tomorrow, but the house of lords already has had it on the stand and discussion reflects a ruffled state of mind among only a few members of the nobility. It is impossible to gauge how serious this will be in effect since the house of commons is the stronghold of the Labor government and the naval pact has not yet been discussed there.

Considered as a whole the treaty has come off with slightly better than a fifty-fifty break thus far in England. Attacks on it by Viscount Bridgeman of Leigh and Lord Carson were parried skillfully by the Marquis of Reading, and further favor was shown in the reception granted Lord Parmoor's speech for the government.

As was to be expected the attack drove at the reduction of armaments by England to bring about better relations with the United States. Lord Carson, who believes the price paid for this improvement in relations is too great, said:

"The problem before us is to supply our people with food. The problem before America is a desire for the freedom of the seas, which means that they may be able to supply belligerents of both sides with as much food as they please."

Lord Carson's somewhat disparaging remarks in this connection were augmented by a statement to the effect that the United States, in gaining parity, had really gained supremacy. In general, however, the wisdom of the agreement with the United States was praised and this nation was pleasantly missing in the group of possible enemies of the British empire. Charges that Great Britain has failed to provide for her own safety are softened by the popular feeling that possibilities of trouble from Europe are less than they were two decades ago and manifestations of friendship from the United States eliminate any fear of danger from this quarter.

It is to be hoped that the discussion in the United States senate will take a turn at least as favorable as that noted so far in the house of lords. It may be assumed that England will await post-conference discussions here with even more interest than the United States evinces towards her. There is an infinite opportunity to build up good will and international understanding.

REPRESENTATION

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, head of the educational department of the Anti-Saloon League, has called attention to the fact that lobbying may be in complete harmony with American ideals of government. His statements in this regard were prompted by the senate's investigations of wet and dry lobbies which have been maintained in Washington.

Dr. Cherrington reasons that legislators are not super-men and super-women and that until they become so it is impossible for them to represent their constituents without continuous contact. This contact, indeed, is in demand by all citizens who are engaged actively in keeping government responsive to the public's demands. During a course of a legislator's term of office many questions arise with which he cannot become familiar unless outside help is solicited or offered.

The supreme court of the United States has recognized that lobbying the course of a legislator's term ethical. In the case of Marshall versus the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Co., it held:

"All persons whose interests may in any way be affected by public or private act of the legislature have an undoubted right to urge their claims and arguments either in person or by counsel professing to act for them before legislative committees as well as before courts of justice."

The supreme court also decreed in the case of Trist versus child that "such services are separated by a broad line of demarcation from personal solicitation, and . . . compensation can be recovered for them when they stand alone." At the same time, the court decreed, in both cases, that lobbyists should "honestly appear in their true characters" to "those before whom they plead or solicit . . . a hired advocate or agent assuming to act in a different character is practicing fraud and deception."

The designation of "lobbyist," as Dr. Cherrington admits, has fallen into ill repute, due largely to the misuse of lobbying privileges by organizations which have more money than right on their sides. In very many cases, a lobbyist has ceased to be an informer or even an agitator, and has become an agent operating under a false identification. But lamentable as this deception is, discouraging as is the bribery which has been practiced, lobbying is not to be condemned broadly. It was and still is a necessary part of the machinery of a representative government.

What Others Say

APPLAUSE AT CONCERTS

Messrs. Stokowski and Toscanini have at various times signified their displeasure with unduly enthusiastic applause. Mr. Stokowski having gone so far as to deliver a harangue about it from the desk. Now in Philadelphia a number of concert-goers have been polled as to how they feel about it, and 900 have voted in favor of applause, with only 200 voting against it. We incline to side with the 900. Music, if it is anything, is an emotional experience, and emotion, if it is to be fully realized, demands an outlet. Applause furnishes this, imperfectly, perhaps, but satisfactorily enough in a large auditorium. Then what is the point in trying to repress it? To insist on silence during the whole progress of a concert is to change profoundly the whole nature of the performance; instead of being a gathering for the spontaneous enjoyment of music, as at present, it becomes a sort of ritual, with considerably less point than a religious ritual. That is to say, instead of the musicians playing for the benefit of the audience, the audience, the audience would listen for the benefit of the musicians; and one suspects that most of the musicians had rather take the afternoon off and see a baseball game. It is very hard to shake off the feeling that preoccupation with the conduct of the audience on the part of these two gentlemen is a result of taking themselves a little too seriously at times. — New York World.

TUBERCULOSIS

It is a matter of great rejoicing that real progress has been made in the control of tuberculosis. A forward movement of still greater importance has now been started in cooperative research in tuberculosis.

This has been undertaken to the end that knowledge of the means of its prevention and a more direct method of treatment may be obtained.

This highly specialized and technical research is being carried on under the direction of the National Tuberculosis Association. Outstanding specialists, both men and women, in individual fields, are attacking the study under a carefully laid cooperative plan.

The work is being carried on in 21 different laboratories—such as the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, Yale, Johns Hopkins, Vanderbilt University, University of Nebraska, University of Chicago, Cornell University and other medical centers.

Two phases of work are being undertaken. One is for social research and the other for medical research.

The germ responsible for tuberculosis is called the "tubercle bacillus." There can be no tuberculosis in the absence of this germ, and unless there is a favorable soil for the nourishment of the germ, it cannot take root, or at least cannot thrive.

The presence of some of the most simple ordinary illnesses, and a tendency to colds, may indicate a run-down condition of the system. A slight cough which hangs on after a series of colds should be looked after by your doctor.

Undernourishment from lack of food, or from eating the wrong foods are other causes.

A distinguished physician who is a recognized authority on tuberculosis has said:

"There are six danger signals which should be watched for, especially in children:

"First—Persistent underweight. Children and thin people should be weighed frequently and sent for examination if they do not gain as fast as they should.

"Second—Unusual fatigue. "Third—Any cough which lasts a month or more.

"Fourth—Any spitting of blood, no matter how slight; remember this may be the only symptom.

"Fifth—A recurrent tendency to colds or fevers. It is very dangerous to disregard what so many people consider 'just a little cold,' or feverishness.

"Sixth—A slight persistent cough. "No single one of these danger signals should be ignored, and when two or more of them are present, it is especially important to consult a physician immediately. Remember, that good food, fresh air and plenty of rest will cure the disease in its early stages."

The Stars Say—

For Friday, May 16

The lunar aspects for this day are not to be taken as encouraging any new ventures, being under the depressing and obstructing force of Saturn. The day may be characterized by frustrated plans and postponements, with hazards in the employment and retarded conditions generally. These may involve a sudden or unwelcome change or journey. It is suggested that all matters possible be deferred until more auspicious planetary rulership.

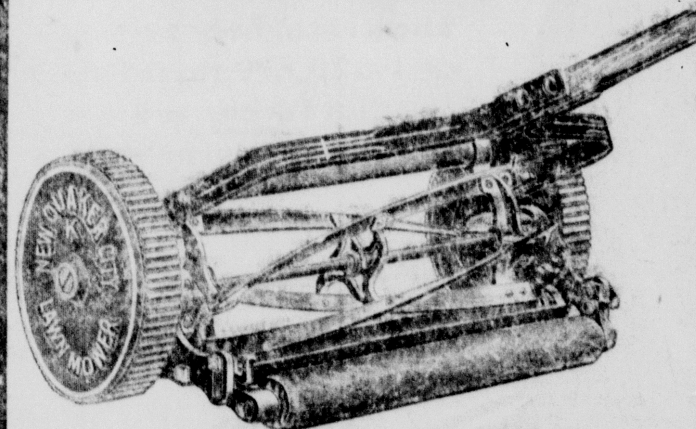

These whose birthday it is are likely to have a year of difficult and thwarting developments, with delays and obstacles to be tenaciously overcome or compromised. Those in employment are enjoined to be cautious in all approaches to employers or those in authority. And care should be taken as to sudden tendencies to make change or to travel.

A child born on this day may be hard-working, industrious and faithful and may need these qualities to surmount many difficult situation in life.

BRITISH MAKE PREPARATIONS IN SALT WAR

Will Protect Depots In Projected Raid Led By Mrs. Naidu

(By The Associated Press)
BOMBAY, INDIA, May 15.—The British government took extreme precautions today to prevent the projected raid of Indian nationalists, under Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, on the salt depots at Kharsana. Others were issued prohibiting assembly or more than four persons in the vicinity of the salt depots, which, though privately owned are state-operated. The entire police force of Jalapur was said to have been removed to the threatened point.

One year's simple imprisonment was assessed Mrs. Lakshmi Naidu, widely known social worker of Madras, the first woman to be taken into custody by the government since the civil disobedience campaign began. Her offense was leading a demonstration against the salt laws at Vedaranyam.

There were renewed disturbing reports today from the northwest frontier where Communists were said to be subsidizing the all-India national congress agitation and to be instigating revolt among the tribesmen, some of whom are reported wearing the hammer and sickle badge of the Soviets.

One of the foremost Mohammedan leaders on the frontier, Nawab Sir Dost Mohamed Khan, was said to have issued an appeal to Moslems to cut their connection with the Communists, claiming that they were leading them into danger.

He warned that the Moslem policy was suicidal and that they were allowing themselves to be led blindly by Hindu members of the all-India national congress whose salaries have been paid by Communists.

BISHOP CLEARED OF ONE CHARGE

Still Has To Face Stock Market Activities Allegations; On Witness Stand

DALLAS TEX., May 15.—Exonerated of charges of undue political activity in the 1928 campaign, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., today still faced complaints signed by more than a score of delegates to the general conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, south, that he speculated on the stock market.

Nearly six hours of deliberation by the Episcopacy committee yesterday failed to clear Bishop Cannon of the speculation allegations. For three hours in the afternoon, and 45 minutes at night, Cannon was on the witness stand. Much of the time he was known to have spent reading papers, presumably in reply to the photostatic documents presented by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, purporting to be records of his stock market transactions.

MARINES

meant principally that the national guard had received orders to take the offensive, hunting down the bandits in their native retreats.

200 Marines Active
There are 200 marines engaged in the hunt and 500 native guards with marine officers.

The first of the encounters mentioned on May 5 took place at Narango, near the Honduran border, two bandits were captured and a small quantity of arms confiscated.

On May 6 a small patrol preparing to camp for the night was ambushed and one guardsman was wounded. On the next day occurred the action at San Juan, when 100 men opened fire from four sides on a marine and constabulary patrol.

Four guards were killed and two wounded while the bandits lost six dead.

Two persons were killed in another encounter May 10 at Aguagate, near Ocotla. Both were believed to have identified as lesser chiefs of the former insurgent movement.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR

Spectacular Blaze In Chicago Causes Heavy Loss On Island In River

CHICAGO, May 15.—One of the "thirty day" elevators, built by the late Philip D. Armour, Sr., in his 1898 wheat battle with Joseph Leiter, was destroyed by fire last night with an accompanying property loss estimated at $750,000.

Described by Fire Chief Michael Corrigan as "Chicago's most spectacular fire in years," the blaze started with a spontaneous combustion of grain and for more than an hour threatened all of Goose island, in the Chicago river. Two fire boats helped fight the flames while thousands of people looked on.

The Rosenbaum corporation, owners of the elevators placed their loss at $300,000, including 200,000 bushels of rye; water seeping into underground linseed oil tanks of the Archer-Daniels-Midland company caused a $400,000 loss; while other adjacent properties also sustained small losses.

COUNTY, STATE JOIN IN WORK

Federal Representatives Will Also Confer On Highway Project

County commissioners of Columbiana and Jefferson counties will meet with resident and division highway engineers of both counties and a federal highway engineer at the McCullough children's home at Yellow Creek in Jefferson county next Tuesday for the purpose of reviewing plans for the re-routing of No. 7 inter-county highway from the Children's home to a point near Wooster's crossing in Wellsville.

The two counties will join with the federal government and the Pennsylvania railroad in changing the highway at that place.

It is proposed to make a boulevard on the north side of the railroad right of way by grading the hillside and constructing an overhead crossing over the tracks of the railroad company.

The bulk of the work to be done is in Jefferson county, although considerable grading will also be done in Columbiana county and into Wellsville from the county line.

Tracks of the Steubenville, East Liverpool Beaver Valley Traction Co., may also be routed over the new highway, and this will eliminate the use of a viaduct at the west end of Wellsville.

SHIPS COLLIDE OFF BARNEGAT

Liner Strikes Schooner; Now Menace To Navigation

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Savannah liner City of Atlanta and the schooner Azna collided early today 47 miles off Barnegat, N. J., and three of the schooner's crew were believed drowned.

A wireless message from the City of Atlanta said the schooner was the Azna and that the liner had taken the captain, mate and six sailors aboard.

Available shipping records do not list the Azna, but carry the Azna and it was believed the name may have been garbled in transmission. The Azna is commanded by Captain J. E. McLean and plies between Main and Bermuda.

The City of Atlanta said the collision occurred at 11:57 p. m. and after searching all night for the three missing men continued on her way at daybreak. She said the schooner was waterlogged and has become a menace to navigation.

NEW YORK—Florence Hawang, Chinest, has won a Phi Beta Kappa key at Hunter college. After study at the University of Michigan she intends to be a medical missionary in China.

CHATTY BANDIT GETS IN WRONG

Accomplices Victim For Drink, But Ends Up In Arms Of Policemen

CHICAGO, May 15.—In the bandit business, Paul Harris has found, one must be very careful with whom one associates.

Paul was holding up four strangers in a parked car yesterday. During the course of the holdup he grew chatty, and wound up by inviting the victims to take him for a little motor ride. Leslie Healy, one of the men, suggested that the party go to his home for a drink.

They did, but when they got there the cellar was bare. Healy said he would go out and get some liquor. He went out, and returned with policemen, who arrested Harris.

CHICAGO, May 15.—In the opinion of Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, city health commission, the use of serum injections as a diphtheria immunity may soon be supplanted by an ointment.

After making tests on 47 school children, Drs. Kegel and Gasul reported to the Chicago medical society last night that they had obtained a 60 per cent efficiency with the ointment developed by Prof. E. Lowenstein, of Vienna.

Dr. Kegel emphasized, however, that the ointment should not be used in practice until a 90 per cent efficiency has been reached, making it equal to the effectiveness of the serum and needle. Research to reach that effectiveness has been started, the health commissioner said.

Prof. Lowenstein's ointment was described as a "compound of diphtheria toxin modified by the addition of formaldehyde and dead diphtheria bacilli."

Confer Degrees
Degrees will be conferred on two candidates at a special meeting of Perry lodge, No. 185, P. and A. M. at the Masonic temple Friday night. Officers and team of the order have been invited to confer the M. M. degree at Sebring on Friday, May 23.

CHICAGO, May 15.—In the opinion of Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, city health commission, the use of serum injections as a diphtheria immunity may soon be supplanted by an ointment.

After making tests on 47 school children, Drs. Kegel and Gasul reported to the Chicago medical society last night that they had obtained a 60 per cent efficiency with the ointment developed by Prof. E. Lowenstein, of Vienna.

Dr. Kegel emphasized, however, that the ointment should not be used in practice until a 90 per cent efficiency has been reached, making it equal to the effectiveness of the serum and needle. Research to reach that effectiveness has been started, the health commissioner said.

Prof. Lowenstein's ointment was described as a "compound of diphtheria toxin modified by the addition of formaldehyde and dead diphtheria bacilli."

Public Health Reports of 1923, Volume 38, Page 1271, we find the following: "Among short men less than 5 feet 7 inches in height an excess (in weight) of 20% involves an added mortality of 30% above normal. A 40% excess adds 80% to the mortality." We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. ## OUR READERS

ANENT GUILFORD LAKE

Editor The News: With pleasure did I read the article in this newspaper about the Guilford park and lake project, and I congratulate the Fish and Game association with the stand they have finally seen fit to take. There is no doubt that this is the only way in which there may be hope for completion of this project.

For 10 long years this county has been promised this park and lake, and for 10 years we have been waiting to see this promise as yet unfulfilled. I believe that many people are glad that the association has started the ball rolling. Now if we all help and give it a kick, it ought to keep on rolling and roll up 10,000 signatures in very short order. About three weeks ago there were about five men from Columbus down at Guilford. Since then I have heard at different times, that those men let it be known that the state would like to buy 500 feet of land all around the lake before they finish what is left undone. That would mean that at least five of us around here would have to get out altogether, or else have all the buildings removed. The farmers may be soft, but they are not cocked all over yet. The people of Columbiana county have lived on promises for 10 years, and the farmers around here are not going to sell more land on that same promise. They will sell no more land until they see the lake in reality instead of in a vision. Some of our speakers on the picnics have been telling the farmers that the land around the lake would be worth $300 per acre. I wonder what they will offer these fellows when they come to buy land.

They also told the crowd every time they would do everything in their power to see this project accomplished. It seems they did not have much power or else they did not want to use it. At best, we have not seen much of it.

Now that at last something has been started, to which the people of the County have a perfect right, let us stand together for that right, and let the old saying of united we stand come true. For no doubt if we all keep fighting for this thing we are sure to get it. Let "light for our right" be our motto.

A speaker the other day said, that a man who knows he is right, and would not give in, is a wise man, and he who is right and does give in is (and here a voice in the audience spoke up and said)—he is married. May that be as it is. Some men give in because the other is boss, some do to avoid trouble, and in this case no one need to give in. We have waited long enough and I believe that when the vote of 10,000 Columbiana county people is heard at Columbus at one time, those in authority will heed the battle cry of right.

Here is hoping for success in a right and decent way but whether the state put on the concrete facing or not, I think that by next winter there will be again a lake and here is hoping that whoever plugs the pipe will do a real job, so that it will take dynamite to unplug it, for if the state does not intend to finish this job we may as well have the war open again.

I thank you. A. CUYPER

DOES FERRY, N. Y.—The stork uses standard time. One of his visits to the Dolus Ferry hospital was recorded as 12:23 a. m., daylight saving time May 1. The mother objected, saying her child was born at 11:20 p. m. April 30, and the bureau of vital statistics at Albany upheld her.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS.—It looks difficult for any other fisherman in the cabinet to beat this. Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, hooked a shark, 8 feet, 5 inches long. After it had been pulled out on a dock there soon were eight sharks. The catch had children.

MY WHAT A SNOWY WASH, MRS. KING. HOW DO YOU DO IT?

"I don't scrub" says Mrs. King

"YOU'VE been surprised to know I haven't used a washboard in years. Why should I—when Rinso soaks clothes whiter. And saves them from getting that scrubbed-out look."

"On washday, I let Rinso's creamy suds do all the work. Rinso is all I ever use—no other soap—no softener. My wash comes so white, I don't even boil. Rinso is wonderful!"

DWIGHT W. MORROW, candidate for the senate in New Jersey, will be attacked by the dregs with especial ferocity. They mean to run a dry independent against him, reviving the old prohibition party.

PROHIBITIONISTS have nothing personal against Mr. Morrow. In fact, they compliment him, saying he is so "distinguished" that it would hurt prohibition if he won his race on a wet platform.

Mr. Morrow learns from politicians, that in New Jersey he could not be elected on any other platform.

MARKET LEAD

NEW YORK, May 15.—Efforts to divert speculative orders into buying channels proved futile in the forenoon stock trading today. Most of the prominent leaders showed a distinct downward trend after a rally in several of the favorite utilities, as well as in Radio Keith Orpheum and United Aircraft, had run its course.

Reduction of the American Locomotive dividend from an $8 to $4 annual basis, together with absence of support for American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, General Electric, Radio and United Corporation, played into the hands of the Bears and constructive efforts on the long side of the market were abandoned before midday.

American Locomotive lost only a fraction, for the dividend cut had been discovered by the recent decline on the stock. J. I. Case lost Auburn Auto 8, Allied Chemical and Pressed Steel Car preferred 3. e Southwestern Rails showed considerable stability.

Why SWP costs less on your house than any other paint

What will it cost to paint your house? This is what concerns you — not what the paint costs per gallon.

While fine old SWP costs more per gallon, it costs less on your home than any other paint. Why? Because one gallon of SWP will thoroughly paint almost twice as much surface as a gallon of cheaper paint. Therefore fewer gallons of SWP are needed.

So — ignoring the fact that SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint, and that its weatherproof colors retain their beauty to the very last — the first cost of painting your house with the world's best house paint is actually less than that of cheaper paint. Buy your paint on a job basis and save. Let us prove it to you by simple arithmetic.

"NO, NO NANETTE"

At The Grand
"No, No Nanette." Alexander
Gray's second Hollywood feature, has its final showing at the Grand theater here tonight.

Bernice Claire and Gray have the leading roles. Miss Claire is making her first film appearance in this picture, while Gray is playing his second film role, his first having been opposite Marilyn Miller in "Sally."

Miss Claire and Gray sang and danced together on the stage when they were prima donna and leading man in "The Desert Song."

Others in the cast are Lucien Littlefield, Louise Fazenda, Lilyan
Tashman, Bert Roach, Zasu Pitts, Mildred Harris, Henry Stockbridge and Jocelyn Lee. Clarence Badger directed.

"GENERAL CRACK"

At The State
America's most distinguished star, John Barrymore, whose voice has charmed two continents on the stage, speaks from the screen for the first time as the star of "General Crack."

In the title role of "General Crack," adapted by Walter Anthony from the George Preedy novel, Barrymore enacts the son of a gypsy princess and a nobleman, who becomes the greatest military leader of his time.

The role of General Crack, the mad Prince Christian—is a constant conflict between inherited traits.
The story is laid in middle Europe during the early part of the eighteenth century.

In addition to making his initial bow as General Crack, Barrymore also plays the father of his character in the prologue, and enacts his father's ghost in later scenes.

The exceptional cast, appearing in his support, includes Lowell
Sherman, Marian Nixon, Armida, Hobart Bosworth, Jacqueline Logan, Otto Matieson, Philippe de Lacy, Andres de Segura, Douglas
Gerrard, William Von Brinken,
Theodore Lodi, Nick Thompson and Curt Rayfield.

Alan Crosland, whose adroitness in painting dramatic canvases on a wide scale, places him among the top-notch talking picture directors, directed this sweeping tale of court intrigue and gypsy love.

Records In Six Events Expected To Fall In District Meet

New Marks May Be Set By Salem High Stars In Discus, Mile Run

RECORDS in six events will be imperiled by northeastern Ohio district athletes in their annual struggle for sectional supremacy in track and field at Reilly stadium Saturday. New marks are expected in the 220-yd low hurdles, mile run, 120-yd high hurdles, shot put, discus and javelin.

Salem High thincads are expected to figure in the establishment of new records in two and possibly three contests while Wooster High's mainmountain, Conrad and East Palestine's star trio, Clayton Schindler, Edward Smith and Russell Van Fossan loom as principles in other record-breaking performances.

William Smith of Salem and Conrad will be leading contenders for first place honors in the discus throw, the winner being expected to have heaved the weight for longer distance than the 121 ft. 4 in. record established by Russell Myers of this city in 1916. Conrad is also touted as potential holder of the shot put record, now held by Walker of Akron East at 45 ft. 10 1/2 in.

Terry Looms Strong
John Terry, Salem, has registered several throws in the shot near the record and is favored to give Conrad a close race for laurels in the event and may also crack the record. E. Smith is practically a sure bet to clear the high hurdles in faster time than that which is now on the record album which Schindler is expected to set a new mark in the low obstacle race.

Van Fossan has bettered the state record in the javelin throw on several occasions this season but has performed with no great consistency. His poorest throw, however, is reported to have been farther than the district mark, 168 ft. 8 in. held by Joseph Popeko, former Akron

Derby Narrows Down To Total Of 16 Entries

Gallant Fox Favored To Win Famous Race; Runs Bad In Mad Trial

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 15.—The probable Kentucky Derby field narrowed down to sixteen thoroughbreds today with three listed as doubtful starters as owners and trainers definitely withdrew their eligibles, for various reasons, from Saturday's feature race at Churchill Downs.

Gallant Fox still ruled the favorite today to capture the $50,000 added stake despite a poor workout yesterday in which he showed a dislike for the mud, because of his victory in the Preakness at Pimlico last week. Faster works by other eligibles, however, narrowed the odds and left the Derby still a wide open race.

Notable speedy moves were made by Nash and Partidge's High Foot, E. R. Bradley's Buckeye Poet, William Ziebler Jr.'s gone away, and Johnson N. Camden's Sydney.

Others listed in the forefront of the contenders are Bradley's Breeding Thru, who was one of the best Derby works to his credit, a mile and a quarter in 2:11 4/5; and Uncle Luther, Stiver's fast colt which is the only probable Derby starter to win a race since the Churchill Downs meeting opened.

Activities in the Salem Industrial mushball league will get under way for the first time here tonight with two games being scheduled at Centennial park. The first game, featuring the Kiwanis club and Maccabee lodge team, will start promptly at 6 o'clock.

Featuring the inaugural activities will be Mayor J. M. Davidson's appearance at the park for the purpose of throwing the first ball of the season. A large crowd is expected.

The second game will be played between the Salem Hardware and Mullins. Raphael Reasback will umpire.

Illinois Nine Wins
CHICAGO, May 15.—Illinois was clinging today to its outside change of at least being Wisconsin for the Big Ten baseball title.

The Illinois yesterday trounced Chicago, 10 to 0 for its fifth victory in seven starts.

Woodrow Wilson, widow of the former president, who will attend the derby as the guest of J. M. Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee of the Democratic party, and Mrs. Shouse, John F. Curry, leader of Tammany hall, and other New York Democratic leaders, are already in Louisville getting a line on the various derby candidates. Mr. Curry is convinced that Gallant Fox, winner of the preakness at Pimlico last week, will capture the Kentucky classic as well.

Professional interest in the derby concerned itself today with the result of the derby trial yesterday in which Uncle Luther splashed his way in ahead of a field of six other derby eligibles in a mile dash. Uncle Luther, owned by Luther Stivers, Lexington, paid better than five to one in the mutuels, and placed himself in the forefront of the derby candidates, especially if Saturday should be a rainy day. The derby trial yesterday was run in the mud.

Ohio Speedster Has No Plan For Place In Life; Graduates

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., May 15.—For the benefit of those wondering what George Simpson is planning to do after he runs his last race for Ohio State, let it be known that George is wondering too.

The fastest sprinter of 1929, who is in the thick of a campaign to prove himself also the fastest human of 1930, if not of all time, has no plans beyond his graduation from the university next month except for the National Amateur Athletic union track meet in Pittsburgh later in the summer.

After receiving his degree in general business he expects to keep in shape for the A. A. U. meet, perhaps take a vacation, and then hops take a living from the world through the medium of a job he has not yet found but is still looking for.

Just at present George is concentrating on getting into shape for the Western conference meet one week from tomorrow, in Evanston, Ill.

He is determined to regain the Big Ten 100-yard championship which he lost to Eddie Tolan of Michigan last May by a narrow margin in record breaking time.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

"If you haven't calves' liver I don't want any," said the fussy housekeeper. Since calves' liver is the most expensive, she assumed it was the only kind worth buying. As a matter of fact, there isn't much superiority in this particular kind. As far as food value is concerned, the liver of calves, ox or sheep is quite the same—all are rich in vitamins, and are a highly desirable addition to the diet of young children. The liver of pigs is as valuable, and chicken liver least of all.

But between the low-priced beef liver and the high-priced calves' liver the difference is one of tenderness, and even that is not extreme, if the beef liver is fresh and of prime quality. Some, indeed, prefer beef liver as having slightly more flavor than calves' liver. But so far as nourishment goes, the cheaper variety is just as good. Indeed, very often the choice calves' liver is adversely affected by smoking and accused of being beef. Restaurant liver is sometimes suspected—and this is for cooking reasons, not because of a deception in the name.

Liver at its best must be cooked quickly, served quickly, kept hot from the moment it leaves the stove to service at table. And when something happens to prevent expert handling and prompt service the liver may seem tough and tasteless. Liver should be cooked in slices of moderate thickness—about half an inch. Let stand in water for about five minutes, then drain. After that it may be cooked in any number of ways. The simplest is pan broiling. Heat the frying pan very hot, add a little beef suet, and when melted place the drained liver on the pan, turning quickly from side to side until light brown. It should be tender in a few minutes, and the best way to prevent overcooking is to test at the end of three or four minutes. It should be cooked through, no raw red streaks in the middle, but be tender to the touch. A few minutes of excess cooking will harden the liver, not improve it.

If it is desirable to bake the liver then it had better be chopped first. Baking in small slices drains it of flavor and of tenderness as well. To glorify an uninteresting vegetable—mold it in an aspic. That makes it attractive to the eye in shape and color, and texture as well. Children who reject certain vegetables in their plain, cooked state will absorb them in a vegetable aspic without noticing that they are eating what they don't like! Even spinach is good to look at and pleasant to eat in that fashion—indeed, its bright green coloring makes it one of the most attractive of the vegetable jellies.

Gelatin, the basis of aspics, is softened in hot water, then dissolved in cold water, but never boiled. Nor should it be stirred too much—just slightly. Gelatin should be carefully measured and not used too generously—for if excess is used then the finished aspic will be too hard and almost tough. A glass or earthen mold should be used, wet first with cold water before the aspic is poured in—then it will unmold easily. It takes from three to six hours for a jelly to stiffen in the ice box. Unmolded then, with sprays of watercress or small leaves of lettuce, endive or shredded cabbage, it makes quite a decorative dish.

Spinach Aspic
1 pound spinach
2 tablespoons gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon onion juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 hard-boiled egg.
Soak the spinach in cold water for an hour, then free from sand by lifting out each clump and letting cold water run through. Separate the leaves and soak for another half hour in cold water. Place in a saucepan without adding water. The drops adhering to the leaves should be sufficient for cooking. Cook until tender—from 15 to 25 minutes. Drain spinach and add to the juice enough water to make two cups. Heat this to boiling point. Meanwhile the gelatin should be allowed to soak in the cold water and, when the spinach water has come to a boil, add the softened gelatin, but do not continue cooking. Set aside to cool. Chop the spinach finely, and when the gelatin has become cool and begun to thicken, add the chopped spinach, salt and lemon and onion juice. Pour into a large fancy mold—or several small ones—and place in the refrigerator to get firm. Serve on lettuce leaves, garnished with quarters of hard-boiled egg and slices of lemon. Serve with mayonnaise, not French dressing.

Mixed Vegetable Aspic
3 cups any clear soup
½ cup cold water
3 tablespoons gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups shredded vegetables
1 teaspoon salt
Soak the gelatin in cold water, then add to the hot, clear soup, add lemon juice and salt and set aside to cool. When it is slightly thick, place a little in the bottom of a wet mold, then add a layer of one vegetable, a layer of gelatin, a layer of another vegetable, and so on, until all are used up.

Raw vegetables like celery, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes can be used. Or all cooked vegetables, like beets, carrots, pimiento, asparagus, potatoes. This is a pleasant way of using up several little dishes of left-over vegetables.

If no clear soup is available, then one can of tomatoes, cooked and strained, may be used instead, making sure that there is enough for three cups.

Furs Always Conform with Fashion's Laws

Luxurious furs will always appeal to ladies, even when the weather is becoming warmer. The handsome wrap of precious fur with a stunning silver and white fox collar, having the hemline dipping at the back, was one of the striking models endorsed by fashion folk in their recent session at Los Angeles.

A most luxurious evening gown with a series of diagonal bands making the upper portion, these bands merging into very flaring panels that form the skirt. A short-sleeved bolero jacket of the same material half hides a beautiful jeweled belt which passes under.

Pale gold and flesh-white lamé draped in most graceful clinging lines is chosen for another elegant evening gown. A black sheath frock has many narrow flounces edged with ermine along which holds them in position. Yellow flannel tulle, fine tulle and sparkling paillettes combine to make another fascinating model which would change almost any woman into a mermaid princess. Boleros are of ten entirely of colored crystal beads and tunic enriched with tubular bead embroideries.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

The icebox can take the place of the cook stove for the preparation of vegetables and desserts—if the right equipment is on hand. Instead of the cooked dessert—the cream frozen in a mold. Instead of hot vegetables, the aspic. Also many cooked vegetables that might be discarded when not completely consumed at the first appearance are pleasantly rejuvenated by proper storing.

At present one of the novelties that is a real economy is the vitalizer that revives wilted vegetables. It is a plain oblong container with lid, and vegetables placed therein and left in the automatic refrigerator become crisp and fresh again after a few hours.

A set of refrigerator dishes is quite indispensable, whether the icebox is ice equipped or automatically chilled. They come in white enamel and have covers and are of different sizes. Small portions can be kept separate, covered, and in good condition, and no matter how many different foods are kept in one chamber there is no invasion of one odor on another.

The popular summer dessert is one requiring no cooking, and one can even have cake on these terms. The so-called "icebox cake" is a custardy mixture which solidifies by freezing instead of cooking. Pouring this into an attractive cake mold, lined with sponge cake or lady fingers, results in a rather elaborate dessert after a few hours with very little work involved. Plenty of molds will insure a variety of desserts minus the job of cooking.

And if the problem of removing ice cubes from the automatic refrigerator arises there's one easy solution—the rubber cube tray. Ice slips out of each square compartment merely by bending the rubber a trifle—and no breakage or cracking.

"But where in the world do you prepare food?" demanded the visiting friend as she took a glimpse at the narrow kitchenette. It was a charming but tiny apartment, and really one didn't expect to find any kind of kitchen at all. But this one seemed almost a toy, despite its brave boasting of modern equipment—stove, refrigerator, sink and cupboard.

"Easy enough," retorted the young hostess airily as she started unfolding one object after another. She pulled a folding chair from the wall, then tucked her hand under a large, square board that hung against the door. She swung it forward, fastened it underneath, and in a twinkling she had seated herself comfortably before an ample table surface.

When there isn't space enough for useful equipment to stand around they may be tucked away folded. It's an elaboration of the ironing board idea. Gone are the days when even the modestly-circumstanced family had a permanent laundry in the basement, where set tubs, ample ironing board and other necessities stood in one place, ready for use at once. Few people have that much space—but ironing still has to be done to some extent in every home. Hence the folding ironing board. Some are built in, but a folding ironing board that looks like a shallow cupboard against the wall can be purchased. It is just as ample and convenient as the old-style space-taking board, but when not in use it simply makes itself scarce.

There are even utensils that fold—and they are very handy for camping as well as kitchenette use in some cases. Folding broilers, frying pans with handles that fold under are a few of the space savers.

"I'm so dreadfully hard on stockings! Look at these—only the second time I've worn them and they're practically ruined," grumbled Dot at lunch. She had a grievance because it was a brand of hose that several other women had recommended highly, and they still asserted that they were well pleased. "Just my rotten luck to get poor quality," persisted Dot. Until someone asked how she washed her hose—and then nobody wondered. Because Dot washed her own hose, like handkerchiefs, she said, using the same kind of strong soap and the same strenuous cleansing methods.

Silk stockings have to be treated as carefully as any fine silk underwear—only more so. They won't survive strong soaps and liquids that are meant for sturdy fabrics. Moreover, they should never be rubbed with soap—they should not be rubbed at all.

A safe method is to use only luke-

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain.
How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc. are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

warm water—never hot water. Soak for five minutes in a little borax water. Or wash in a solution of warm water whipped into suds with some neutral soap flakes. Never rub. Merely slosh the stockings in the soapy water, squeezing out the soap gently through the fingers. Rinse in several lukewarm waters until all the soap is removed, spread into shape and hang with the toes and heels carefully played over a roid and the leg side down.

Stockings should not be hung in the sun to dry. In fact, all silk should be dried in the shade—sun affects color of fabric or both.

If stockings are very badly soiled then they can be left to soak in cold water for 15 or 20 minutes before washing. Never use strong soap or strong methods—it may remove the dirt, but the silk will very likely go with it.

Trouble!

There's trouble in store for the woman who sews or reads, unless she has good light—light that enables her to see without effort—light that is well diffused to eliminate glare as well as gloom. Headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of ability to concentrate are frequently traceable to eyestrain.

It is no economy to skimp on electricity for lighting when electricity gives the best and cheapest light mankind has ever had.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

"If you haven't calves' liver I don't want any," said the fussy housekeeper. Since calves' liver is the most expensive, she assumed it was the only kind worth buying.

As a matter of fact, there isn't much superiority in this particular kind. As far as food value is concerned, the liver of calves, ox or sheep is quite the same—all are rich in vitamins, and are a highly desirable addition to the diet of young children. The liver of pigs is as valuable, and chicken liver least of all.

But between the low-priced beef liver and the high-priced calves' liver the difference is one of tenderness, and even that is not extreme, if the beef liver is fresh and of prime quality. Some, indeed, prefer beef liver as having slightly more flavor than calves' liver. But so far as nourishment goes, the cheaper variety is just as good.

Indeed, very often the choice calves' liver is adversely affected by cooking and accused of being "beefy." Restaurant liver is sometimes suspected—and this is for cooking reasons, not because of a deception in the name.

Liver at its best must be cooked quickly, served quickly, kept hot from the moment it leaves the stove to service at table. And when something happens to prevent expert handling and prompt service the liver may seem tough and tasteless. Liver should be cooked in slices of moderate thickness—about half an inch. Let stand in water for about five minutes, then drain. After that it may be cooked in any number of ways. The simplest is pan broiling. Heat the frying pan very hot, add a little beef suet, and when melted place the drained liver on the pan, turning quickly from side to side until light brown. It should be tender in a few minutes, and the best way to prevent overcooking is to test at the end of three or four minutes. It should be cooked through, no raw red streaks in the middle, but be tender to the touch. A few minutes of excess cooking will harden the liver, not improve it.

If it is desirable to bake the liver then it had better be chopped first. Baking in small slices drains it of flavor and of tenderness as well.

To glorify an uninteresting vegetable—mold it in an aspic. That makes it attractive to the eye in shape and color, and texture as well. Children who reject certain vegetables in their plain, cooked state will absorb them in a vegetable aspic without noticing that they are eating what they don't like! Even spinach is good to look at and pleasant to eat in that fashion—indeed, its bright green coloring makes it one of the most attractive of the vegetable jellies.

Gelatin, the basis of aspics, is softened in cold water, then dissolved in hot water, but never boiled. Nor should it be stirred too much—just slightly. Gelatin should be carefully measured and not used too generously—for if excess is used then the finished aspic will be too hard and almost tough. A glass or earthen mold should be used, wet first with cold water before the aspic is poured in—then it will unmold easily. It takes from three to six hours for a jelly to stiffen in the ice box. Unmolded then, with sprays of watercress or small leaves of lettuce, endive or shredded cabbage, it makes quite a decorative dish.

Spinach Aspic

- 1 pound spinach
- 2 tablespoons gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon onion juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 hard-cooked egg.

Soak the spinach in cold water for an hour, then free from sand by lifting out each clump and letting cold water run through. Separate the leaves and soak for another half hour in cold water. Place in a saucepan without adding water. The drops adhering to the leaves should be sufficient for cooking. Cook until tender—from 15 to 25 minutes. Drain spinach and add to the juice enough water to make two cupsful. Heat this to boiling point. Meanwhile the gelatin should be allowed to soak in the cold water and, when the spinach water has come to a boil, add the softened gelatin, but do not continue cooking. Set aside to cool. Chop the spinach finely, and when the gelatin has become cool and begun to thicken, add the chopped spinach, salt and lemon and onion juice. Pour into a large fancy mold—or several small ones—and place in the refrigerator to get firm. Serve on lettuce leaves, garnished with quarters of hard-cooked egg and slices of lemon. Serve with mayonnaise, not French dressing.

Mixed Vegetable Aspic

- 3 cups any clear soup
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 3 tablespoons gelatin
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 cups shredded vegetables
- 1 teaspoon salt

Soak the gelatin in cold water, then add to the hot, clear soup, add lemon juice and salt and set aside to cool. When it is slightly thick, place a little in the bottom of a wet mold, then add a layer of one vegetable, a layer of gelatin, a layer of another vegetable, and so on, until all are used up.

Raw vegetables like celery, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes can be used. Or all cooked vegetables, like beets, carrots, pimiento, asparagus, potatoes. This is a pleasant way of using up several little dishes of left-over vegetables.

If no clear soup is available, then one can of tomatoes, cooked and strained, may be used instead, making sure that there is enough for three cups.

PARIS, May 14—Extreme elegance characterizes new evening gowns for spring and summer wear, forecasting luxurious nights of pre-war times. Fabulous quantities of silks and satins, precious furs and priceless embroidery go into the making of them.

Furs Always Conform
with Fashion's Laws

Luxurious furs will always appeal to ladies, even when the weather is becoming warmer. The handsome wrap of precious fur with a stunning silver and white fox collar, having the hemline dipping at the back, was one of the striking models endorsed by fashion folk in their recent session at Los Angeles.

a most luxurious evening gown with a series of diagonal bands, making the upper portion, these bands merging into very flaring panels that form the skirt. A short-sleeved bolero jacket of the same material half hides a beautiful jeweled belt which passes underneath.

Pale gold and flesh-white lame draped in most graceful clinging lines is chosen for another elegant evening gown. A black sheath frock has many narrow flounces edged with ermine along which holds them in position. Yellow fishnet tulle, the tulle and sparkling paillettes combine to make another fascinating model which would change almost any woman into a mermaid princess. Boleros are of entirely of colored crystal beads and tunics enriched with tubular bead embroideries.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

The icebox can take the place of the cook stove for the preparation of vegetables and desserts—if the right equipment is on hand. Instead of the cooked dessert—the cream frozen in a mold. Instead of hot vegetables, the aspic. Also many cooked vegetables that might be discarded when not completely consumed at the first appearance are pleasantly rejuvenated by proper storing.

A present one of the novelties that is a real economy is the vitalizer that revives wilted vegetables. It is a plain oblong container with lid, and vegetables placed therein and left in the automatic refrigerator become crisp and fresh again after a few hours.

A set of refrigerator dishes is quite indispensable, whether the icebox is ice equipped or automatically chilled. They come in white enamel and have covers and are of different sizes. Small portions can be kept separate, covered, and in good condition, and no matter how many different foods are kept in one chamber there is no invasion of one odor on another.

The popular summer dessert is one requiring no cooking, and one can even have cake on these terms. The so-called "icebox cake" is a custardy mixture which solidifies by freezing instead of cooking. Pouring this into an attractive cake mold, lined with sponge cake or lady fingers, results in a rather elaborate dessert after a few hours with very little work involved. Plenty of molds will insure a variety of desserts minus the job of cooking.

And if the problem of removing ice cubes from the automatic refrigerator arises there's one easy solution—the rubber cube tray. Ice slips out of each square compartment merely by bending the rubber a trifle—and no breakage or cracking.

"But where in the world do you prepare food?" demanded the visiting friend as she took a glimpse at the kitchen kitchenette. It was a charming but tiny apartment, and really one didn't expect to find any kind of kitchen at all. But this one seemed almost a toy, despite its brave boasting of modern equipment—stove, refrigerator, sink and cupboard.

"Easy enough," retorted the young hostess airily as she started unfolding one object after another. She pulled a folding chair from the wall, then tucked her hand under a large, square board that hung against the door. She swung it forward, fastened it underneath, and in a twinkling she had seated herself comfortably before an ample table surface.

When there isn't space enough for useful equipment to stand around they may be tucked away folded. It's an elaboration of the ironing board idea. Gone are the days when even the modestly-circumstanced family had a permanent laundry in the basement, where set tubs, ample ironing board and other necessities stood in one place, ready for use at once. Few people have that much space—but ironing still has to be done to some extent in every home. Hence the folding ironing board. Some are built in, but a folding ironing board that looks like a shallow cupboard against the wall can be purchased. It is just as ample and convenient as the old-style space-taking board, but when not in use it simply makes itself scarce.

There are even utensils that fold—and they are very handy for camping as well as kitchenette use. In some cases, folding broilers, frying pans with handles that fold under are a few of the space savers.

"I'm so dreadfully hard on stockings! Look at these—only the second time I've worn them and they're practically ruined," grumbled Dot at lunch. She had a grievance because it was a brand of hose that several other women had recommended highly, and they still asserted that they were well pleased. "Just my rotten luck to get poor quality," persisted Dot. Until someone asked how she washed her hose—and then nobody wondered. Because Dot washed her own hose, like handkerchiefs, she said, using the same kind of strong soap and the same strenuous cleansing methods.

Silk stockings have to be treated as carefully as any fine silk underwear—only more so. They won't survive strong soaps and liquids that are meant for sturdy fabrics. Moreover, they should never be rubbed with soap—they should not be rubbed at all.

A safe method is to use only lake-

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain.
How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc. are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Adv

warm water—never hot water. Soak for five minutes in a little borax water. Or wash in a solution of warm water whipped into suds with some neutral soap flakes. Never rub. Merely slosh the stockings in the soapy water, squeezing out the soap gently through the fingers. Rinse in several lukewarm waters until all the soap is removed, spread into shape and hang with the toes and heels carefully played over a rod and the leg side down.

Stockings should not be hung in the sun to dry. In fact, all silk should be dried in the shade—sun affects color or fabric or both.

If stockings are very badly soiled then they can be left to soak in cold water for 15 or 20 minutes before washing. Never use strong soap or strong methods—it may remove the dirt, but the silk will very likely go with it.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

A few scattered building stones on Mill Creek, just north of Marysville, about 35 miles north of Columbus, and the wreck of a cabin near the boundary line between Franklin and Madison counties, which once was his home, is all that now remains to recall Jonathan Adler, a noted pioneer, who, though living miles away, received his mail at Franklinton postoffice and was a familiar figure in that village.

He was living at Pleasant Valley, now Plain City, when the war of 1812 broke out, and the company formed there, of which he was captain, was ordered to build a fort on Mill Creek as a defense against possible attack from the Indians. Adler doubted the governor's judgment, but obeyed orders. The fort was little more than a block house, and was said to be the only fortification ever built within the boundaries of the present county of Union.

Adler was born in New Jersey, but his boyhood home was in Greenbrier county, Virginia. There, while quite young, he was captured by the Indians, and became one of them to all intents and purposes. After the Greenville treaty he settled at Pleasant Valley with his squaw wife. Incidentally while at Franklinton, on one occasion, he met a man named Moore, who was from Greenbrier, Virginia, and through Moore's relatives in Virginia ascertained that Adler was living and where. As the result he visited Virginia and proved his identity to his mother, who was living still.

Adler met Lucas Sullivant, whose Franklinton enterprise followed soon after the Greenville treaty, and the two became great friends. After hearing his story, Sullivant gave Adler a small tract of land; but the title was disputed and Adler, failing to defend it stoutly, let it pass from his possession. About the time Sullivant was laying out Franklinton, Adler was located at Pleasant Valley and taking up, as far as he ever did the ways of civilized life.

Tires are SO cheap now

TIRE prices today are at the lowest point in the history of the rubber business.

The difference in price between the best standard tire and one that you can't be sure of, is, if anything, hardly enough to count.

That removes the last excuse a sensible man can have for not buying as excellent a tire as the Goodyear All-Weather Tread Balloon.

It is the standard of quality of the world; it outsells any other tire in the world; it is the basis of

why not have the BEST the eloquent fact that "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

You want the biggest possible money's worth in safety, traction, dependability and mileage when you buy a tire—you can get it now at no premium in the standard Goodyear All-Weather.

Your size is waiting for you at a price you can afford to pay—no farther away than the nearest Goodyear Dealer!

"I Regret Not Having Konjola Long, Long Ago"

Ailments Made Man Unable To Work—Gained Health And Eleven Pounds In Month

"How I regret not knowing about Konjola long, long ago," said Mr. Robert Leslie Boothie, 1469 Gladstone avenue, Cincinnati. "One year ago I had to quit work because of my health. I had indigestion, kidney and liver trouble, and rheumatism. My weight dropped from 145 to 126 pounds. Neuritis in my back caused awful misery, and the rheumatism attacked my ankles, feet and toes. All medicines I tried failed, and I was worried and discouraged."
"A friend called to see me and asked why I did not try Konjola and he insisted that it was the medicine I needed. Well, time proved that he was right, for the first bottle produced such results that I realized, with joy, that I was on the right track. The pains faded gradually; my kidney and liver cleansed and invigorated, and in a month I was entirely free from illness and feeling better than in years. In that time I regained 11 pounds of my lost weight. What more could be expected of any medicine?"
Konjola works with the important functional organs of the body; drives the poisons from the system, and regulates the organs of elimination, and digestion. It is recommended that Konjola be taken from six to eight weeks for best results.
Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio, at The J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Indian Minister Sues Government

The Rev. Lester Williams, a full-blooded Sioux Indian and ordained Methodist Episcopal minister, is in Newark, N. J., where he is accumulating information to help him in his suit against the U. S. Government for $1,000,000,000, which he seeks for Indians in Dakota. He charges that the gold taken from the Black Hills of Dakota in 1868 now amounts to a billion with accrued interest.
